

WHATS ON (30 04 12)

Μέσο: HERALD TRIBUNE

Ημ. Έκδοσης: . . . 30/4/2012 Ημ. Αποδελτίωσης: . . . 2/5/2012

Σελίδα: 4

W H A T ' S O N

CHARITY

Christophe for Breast Cancer

> Athens
> May 2-3
French singer-songwriter Christophe, whose hits include "Aline" and "Oh! Mon amour," is scheduled to appear at the Athens Concert Hall on May 2 and 3. The veteran performer and Breast Cancer Action Fund goodwill ambassador will perform in Athens exclusively for the foundation's purposes. On the program will be both old and new numbers from Christophe's long career. The concerts start at 8.30 p.m. For more information, visit www.megaron.gr.

Athens Concert Hall
1 Kerkira & Vas. Sofias,
tel 210.728.2333

Music for Doctors of the World

> Athens
> May 1
The Technopolis cultural center of the City of Athens is organizing a charity concert on Tuesday, May 1, at its premises. The event, in support of Doctors of the World, will feature the Encardia and Ballo del Mare ensembles, as well as the percussion ensemble of the Parnassos Therapeutic Center for Dependent Individuals (KETHEA). Instead of an admission fee, visitors are invited to donate medicine (a box of antibiotics or painkillers for children or adults) or cartons of milk. Starts at 8.30 p.m.

Technopolis Cultural Center,
100 Pireos,
Gazi

EXHIBITIONS

Siga-Siga

> Athens
> To May 30
Works by contemporary Austrian artists are currently on display at CAMP. The show, "Siga-Siga," is organized in cooperation with Vienna's Künstlerhaus and includes artists such as Amina Broggi, Babisi Thumb, Anna Gerlitz, Gue Schmidt, Horst Stasny and Robert Svoboda. Opening hours are Mondays to Sundays from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Running parallel to "Siga-Siga" is "Bomb Song," a satirical monologue penned by Thea Dorn, directed by Martin Scharnhorst and performed by Irene Karaoglou. Performances take place Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays throughout May, starting at around 9 p.m. Both the exhibition and theater performance are supported by the Austrian Embassy in Athens. For more information, visit www.campoint.gr.

CAMP,
4 Exopolides & 2 Apellou,
Kotzia Square,
tel 210.324.7679

BOOKS

Bazaar

> Athens
> To April 30
The Floral cafe and bookstore in Exarchia is organizing a book bazaar featuring Greek and foreign publications including novels and poetry collections, as well as a selection of children's books. The bazaar, which runs to April 30, opens from noon to 8 p.m. daily. Admission is free of charge.

Floral,
80 Thessistocleous,
Exarchia,
tel 210.380.0070

LECTURE

Education

> Athens
> May 4
The Greek Society of Education Historians (GSEH) present the association's annual lecture on Friday, May 4. The event features professor Gary McCulloch from the Institute of Education, University of London, speaking on the subject of "New Directions in the History of Education." The lecture will take place at the Hellenic American Union at 7.30 p.m. Admission to the event is free of charge. For more information, visit www.eleie.gr.

Hellenic American Union,
22 Massalias, Kolonaki,
tel 210.368.0900

OUTDOOR EVENT

Kifissia Flower Show

> Athens
> To May 13
The annual Kifissia Flower Show in the northern suburb turns 58 this year and runs at the town's central Dimitris Zomopoulos Park to May 13. The exhibition showcases over 50 species of flowers from a variety of producers around Greece, while flower growers also offer advice on gardening. General admission is 1.50 euros and opening hours are from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Kifissia Flower Show,
Dimitris Zomopoulos Park,
Kifissia