

Andreas Vasilopoulos

*Adjunct Lecturer - Master of Higher Education Policy (MaHEP), (Universities of Patras, Peloponnese and the Aegean).
Adjunct Lecturer - Master in Adult Education, (Hellenic Open University).*

He teaches European (Higher) Education Policies, Strategic Planning and Evaluation at the MaHEP and Management of Educational Units/Educational Leadership at the Hellenic Open University

Previous Positions

- Member of the Team of Management of the The Moraitis Private Primary School in Greece
- Researcher in the research project entitled: "Erasmus student mobility as a catalyst for biographical transition: The case of students and graduates of higher education institutions of Western Greece" in the framework of the project "Support for researchers with emphasis on young researchers - cycle b" of the FP "Human Resources Development, Education and Lifelong Learning" co-funded by the European Social Fund and national resources.
- External evaluator in the European project entitled: "Development of Learning Outcomes Approach - a way to a better comparability, recognition and employability at the labour market" - DEVCORE - funded under TEMPUS. The project investigated the degree of integration of learning outcomes in the curricula of Montenegrin universities

Recent research Interests

- The contemporary position and role of educational institutions, with emphasis at the University, in a transnational and comparative perspective,
- Strategic Planning, Quality Assurance, Monitoring and Evaluation of educational institutions and programmes - again with emphasis on the University and Higher Education.